Questions to ask your Cosmetic Dentist [1]

Posted: February 23, 2015

When you meet with a cosmetic dentist [2] to discuss how to improve certain aspects of your smile, you should ask all of the questions you have on your mind. Our cosmetic dentists in Colorado believe you should be armed with all the accurate information you need to make the right decisions about cosmetic treatments [3]. If you're at a loss for what to ask about, consider asking the dentist the following questions:

- How can I get my smile to look the way I want?
- How much will it cost?
- Are there any financing options for the treatments I want?
- How many appointments will it take to get the results I want?
- Do you recommend more than one treatment for my goals? What are my various options?
- Why do you think I am a good candidate for the treatments you are recommending?
- How long will the results of the treatments I am considering last?

At Aspenwood Dental Associates [4], we are excited to meet you in your complimentary consultation! We encourage our patients to ask our cosmetic dentists any of the questions they have on their mind. We believe the happiest patients are those who have all the accurate information they need prior to electing cosmetic dental treatments.

If you are interested in finding an experienced, caring cosmetic dentist in Colorado to help you achieve the smile aesthetics you've always wanted, then please call Aspenwood Dental Associates and Colorado Dental Implant Center at (303) 500-0653.
